East Cobb Station, located in Atlanta's most affluent and highly sought after submarkets of Marietta and East Cobb, is a 205,810 square foot retail center anchored by national tenants such as Planet Fitness and O'Reilly Auto Parts. Surrounded by top-tier employers and benefitting from a dense daytime population of over 155,000, East Cobb Station is located adjacent to Interstate I-75 and less than 7 miles from Kennesaw State University and Cobb County International Airport.

The city of Marietta has been judged by the National Civic League as one of the 10 best communities in the nation as a 2006 All-America City, which is the oldest and most respected community recognition in the country. Cobb County is known for being home to numerous Fortune 500 companies such as The Home Depot, Genuine Parts Company, and HD Supply Holdings, Inc. It is also home to GE Energy, the Atlanta Braves, Comcast, and RaceTrac Petroleum.
